A quite prominent position among the relevant non-state actors is held by the currently more than 82,000 transnational corporations (TNCs).

Original Footnote

Corrected Footnote

Explanation of Changes

I put the first citation in it proper format, per rule 21.11(a). Also, I placed the journal title in small caps, per rule 2.1(b). I also removed the word “generally.”

ME Revisions & Comments

Changes:

1. Per BBR 1.2(e), the signal should not be italicized and the “e.g.” becomes “for example” when used as a verb in a textual sentences.
2. I agree with ... in dropping the “Generally” from the textual sentence.
3. The U.N. report should not be formatted pursuant to BBR 21.11. Rather, it should be formatted according to BBR 21.7.3(d) “UN Reports from conferences.” I could not find the dates of the conference. It appears that the conference was held at the U.N. headquarters; thus, the location of the conference is not included; the document symbol appears to be UNCTAD/WIR/2009/Corr.1 (Oct. 26, 2009), which is found on the last page of the document. I’m not certain that this is the symbol for the entire document or just the chart on the last page though. I’m going to plug in this information in the citation, but it may not be correct. You’re going to have to make a judgment call on this one.
4. The pincite for the UN Conference also should include page 224, which contains information about the footnotes included in the chart on 222-23.

Corrected Footnote:

SME Revisions & Comments

1) As far as location goes, the cover states “New York and Geneva,” page V. “Acknowledgements” indicates that this report is mostly comprised of work done in Geneva, Switzerland, however three other meetings occurred in various other countries.

2) Deleted comma before “see.”

Corrected Footnote:
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>FN # 3</th>
<th>Original Text</th>
<th>Corrected Text</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Their status as influential participants in international economic relations and ‘driving forces’ of the processes of globalization is already vividly illustrated by the fact that the undertaking of foreign investments – and thus a constitutive activity of TNCs – is by now a key component of the global economic system.</td>
<td>See SME Comments</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Original Footnote</th>
<th>Corrected Footnote</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>On the definition of TNCs including the controversies and challenges connected with this issue PETER T. MUCHLINSKI, MULTINATIONAL ENTERPRISES AND THE LAW 5-8 (2d ed. 2007).</td>
<td>On the definition of TNCs, including the controversies and challenges connected with this issue, see PETER T. MUCHLINSKI, MULTINATIONAL ENTERPRISES AND THE LAW 5-8 (2d ed. 2007).</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Explanation of Changes

I added commas after “TNCs” and after “issue” and included an introductory signal. Also, I put the author’s name and book title of the second citation in small caps, per rule 2.1(b).

ME Revisions & Comments

Changes:
(1) The signal should not be italicized as it is used as a verb in a textual sentence.
(2) I would include the commas that ... placed in the footnote.

Corrected Footnote:
On the definition of TNCs, including the controversies and challenges connected with this issue, see PETER T. MUCHLINSKI, MULTINATIONAL ENTERPRISES AND THE LAW 5-8 (2d ed. 2007).

SME Revisions & Comments

1) Original text should include em dashes and not en dashes—make sure this has been done in executive draft of article.
2) The footnote looks good

Corrected Footnote:
On the definition of TNCs, including the controversies and challenges connected with this issue, see PETER T. MUCHLINSKI, MULTINATIONAL ENTERPRISES AND THE LAW 5-8 (2d ed. 2007).